ALLSTAR TACTICAL ANNOUNCES NEW LOCATION FOR HEADQUARTERS & RETAIL SHOWROOM

ALLSTAR TACTICAL LLC. (Rochester, NY) has recently announced plans to move its headquarters into the town of Greece, NY. The new location will be approximately 1.4 miles from its current location in the City of Rochester.

More importantly, in addition to this move, Allstar Tactical has decided to reopen a retail showroom servicing the greater Rochester, NY area. This showroom, codenamed "The Bunker," will be open from 11AM to 8PM, Tuesday through Saturday. They will offer the entire line of Allstar Tactical products, including Snake Oil Prime, in a retail venue, as well as products from select manufacturers specifically chosen by the Allstar Tactical Team.

"We are extremely excited to reopen a retail location. For the last three years, we have been unable to showcase our own products or have an easy way to work with our loyal, local customers. My team and I are ready to show you Western-NY's premier boutique firearms shop." – Mike Centola, CEO, Allstar Tactical

"The Bunker" at Allstar Tactical, will also have a classroom facility to be able to teach its own classes, such as Certified Armorers courses, NRA Range Safety Officer classes, and other basic gunsmithing classes. They will be able to host nationally-recognized trainers as well at the facility.

Allstar Tactical has enlisted the help of several consultants to bring this project to light. Glenn Rapp has been recruited as Lead Gunsmith and to manage all Allstar Tactical warranty repairs. Andy Dickason will be coming on to the team as General Manager and Retail Customer Service Specialist to help with the day to day operations of the retail side of Allstar Tactical.

Allstar Tactical is a manufacturer of small arms, specifically the AR-15/M16/M4 platform, with focus on innovation, improvement and engineering of new and improved parts and modifications. The company's target market is civilian and law enforcement sales, as well as sales to the various military branches.
